Gilkerson Leaves Farm Bureau Job

County Adviser for 14 Years Resigns to Accept Other Work

Harry C. Gilkerson, farm adviser of Lake County since December, 1926, has announced his resignation to the farm bureau's board of directors, and will operate the 160-acre Louis Gilmer farm near Libertyville.

He will also become associated with Carl Olson in the Olson Management service of Freeport, taking charge of the advisory management department for Lake, McHenry, Cook and Kane counties in Illinois and Kenosha county in Wisconsin.

Stresses Dairy Progress

During his 14 years as the county adviser, Gilkerson has been instrumental in increasing the dairy herd improvement from 300 to more than 2000. He organized the Lake-Cook Farm Supply Co. of Grayslake, which now does more than $500,000 of business annually.

The 4-H club work was placed on a sound footing during his term in the county, while Mrs. Gilkerson and Mrs. Elbert Elsbury stimulated interest in the establishment of the Lake county home bureau work, which now is a major project among the county farm wives.

Organizes Breeding Association

In recent months, Gilkerson has devoted about one-third of his time to helping organize the Holstein Artificial Breeding association. He is likewise active in the Lake County fair, which has grown out of the Antioch Country Fair.

Prior to his selection as Lake county farm adviser, Gilkerson was adviser in Edwards county for three years, after running a farm in McHenry county for five years.

For seven years Gilkerson was a member of the faculty of the college of Agriculture at the University of Illinois where he taught and experimented in soil fertility. He supervised seven experimental fields in northern Illinois. During one year he had charge of the university's official testing for dairy herds.

The farm bureau board has not yet acted on a successor.

Earl Kane of Diamond Lake, president of the Farm bureau for the last three years, also announced his resignation. He will become manager of the Lake-Cook Supply Co.

Avert Incendiary Attempt

An explosion that might have caused thousands of dollars in damage to Grange township offices, was averted New Year's morning, when employees of "The Blue Devil" luncheonette went to the basement of the Dayton building and found a small open tub containing three or four gallons of gasoline and some excelsior, already saturated and placed dangerously close to a small electric motor.

Deputy State Fire Marshal Raymond Dunkle said that there was no question but that the scene had been laid to put the place out of existence by fire.

Merchants' Policeman Resigns

C. J. Verkest, merchant policeman who has been employed by Antioch business firms as night watchman for the past several months, has resigned and has accepted a position with the Johns-Manville company in Waukegan.

Antioch Young Man Wins Scholarship

Francis Swenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Swenson of Antioch township, route 173, is one of eight young men from Illinois to win a Pure Milk association scholarship to Farmers and Homemakers Week at the University of Illinois Jan. 6 to 10.

Swenson was selected from among a large number of applicants by the Dean's office at the college of agriculture. His appointment was based upon his past record in Future Farmer and 4-H club activities, his present interest in dairying and a 250 word essay on the subject, "Advantages and Disadvantages of Dairy Farming in the Chicago Area."

The $25 scholarship entitles Swenson to a week of intensive training at the university during Farmers' Week, which is now in session.

Young Swenson is a graduate of the agricultural department of the Antioch Township High school.

Car Skids on Highway 173, Crashes into Another

Both cars were badly damaged, but the occupants escaped serious injuries when an automobile being driven west on Highway 173 by William Hanke and one in which Louis Sorensen and Maurice Evans of Racine were driving east, collided on the icy pavement about one mile west of Antioch Wednesday afternoon at 5:20 o'clock.

The Antioch rescue squad, which was called to the scene, administered first aid and brought the men to Antioch for medical treatment.

Hanke received a cut in the scalp above the right temple. Evans suffered abrasions on the left side of his face and a skinned kneecap.

Sorensen and Evans, who are employed by the Jacobsen manufacturing company in Racine, had been to Rockford and were returning to Racine when the mishap occurred.

A number of minor traffic accidents in nearby communities last night and this morning were laid to the icy condition of streets and highways. Children in some rural districts of Kenosha county skated to school this morning, and automobile traffic in many districts, until the ice began to melt later in the day, was practically non-existent or proceeded at a "crawl."

Fire Causes $25,000 Loss at Libertyville Garage

Nine automobiles, including a Libertyville police squad car, were destroyed early Saturday morning in a $25,000 fire which destroyed Merle Weiskoff's Auto Service garage, 615 N. Milwaukee ave., Libertyville. A service motorcycle was also destroyed.

Chief of police Frank Druba said the squad car was towed to the garage for repairs on a frozen gas line at 1 a. m. by Officer Ralph Churchill, who works the night shift on the police force.

At 3 a. m. as Lyle Lenker, the garage attendant on duty, was at work beneath the car it suddenly burst into flames. Lenker managed to crawl from beneath the flaming auto but was unable to control the fire because it spread so rapidly. He escaped serious injury, but suffered from slight burns.

Other autos in the garage caught fire as the blaze spread through the building. Explosive liquids stored in the garage and the gasoline in the cars fed the flames.

The Libertyville fire department, led by Chief Edward Schneider, fought the fire for more than four hours. Although the garage office was destroyed, all records were saved. Neighboring buildings were prevented from catching fire.

Static electricity was blamed for the fire.

Winter Sports Occupy Recreation Attention

The beginning of the year 1941 finds the winter sports of major interest to the children, among the activities sponsored by the Antioch Recreation association, but during their leisure hours many of them are showing commendable creative ability in the craft room, with an increased tendency toward the satisfaction to be found in the varied instructive as well as constructive pastime made possible through the cooperation of the community Recreation sponsors and citizens interested in the welfare of the younger generation.

Included in the recreation activities in the craft room at the Antioch Grade school, at the close of the year of 1940, was the repairing of the toys which were furnished and repaired by the children of the community, the majority of whom were the first to 8th grade school children with the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts participating.

The toys were made to look like new and furnished cheer to the children of less privileged families, some of whom expressed the desire to, and were permitted to, aid in the repairing and painting, under the supervision of the Works Progress Administration leaders, Edwin Kapsa and Miss Grace Gutermuth.

CHRIST'S VALUATION OF PERSONALITY

LESSON TEXT—Luke 14:1-14.

GOLDEN TEXT—Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?—Matthew 6:25.

People, people, and more people! Have you ever said, "I'm just so tired of people. I wish I could get away from everybody"? Most of us have felt that way some time and have possibly needed and deserved a rest. We must not permit that feeling to so color our thinking, however, that we lose our interest in men and women, boys and girls.

Jesus had His times of prayer and quiet communion with the Father, but for the most part we find Him out among people. He loved them and consequently dealt faithfully with them, showing tenderness to those who needed it, and often being severely plain and direct in dealing with those who were hypocrites. He valued human personality highly, hence He gave Himself in sacrificial devotion to winning, guiding, controlling and, above all, saving men.

The lesson presents some interesting contrasts.

I. How and How Not to Use the Sabbath (vv. 1-6).

Jesus was at a formal gathering with invited guests (v. 7) in one of the chief houses of the community, on the Sabbath Day. That such a gathering was held on that day was a sign of the degeneracy of the age. "The same thing is being done on Sunday by Christian people today. They go to church (if convenient) in the morning and devote the afternoon and evening to recreation and social" occasions. We agree with Dr. Morgan that "the whole thing is a sign of spiritual decadence." That's how not to spend the day of rest and worship.

Another wrong thing was that they used the occasion to try to entrap Jesus. He was at the feast, not to "have a good time," but to minister to their spiritual needs. They brought the sick man in to tempt Jesus to heal on the Sabbath Day. He used their trickery to condemn them and to silence them (vv. 4, 6).

Declaring God's truth and His love for man by worship and by work for Him—that is the right way to use the Lord's Day. Let's get back to its proper observance.

II. What and What Not to Do for Advancement (vv. 7-11).

Getting ahead, even at the expense of others, seems to have been quite the thing in our Lord's time, as it is today. Looking at that smug, self-satisfied crowd of "grabbers," Jesus made good use of His presence at the feast to expose their folly and selfishness. Again we agree with Dr. Morgan that one should not "try for the chief seat. Why not? Because the place of honor is for the honorable man; and a man who struggles to sit in the place of honor proves thereby that he is not an honorable man." Think it over!

The way up in spiritual things is always down. Humility, which is so despised by the world, is precious in the sight of God, and will be rewarded by Him. The principle stated in verse 11 is and always will be true. The young man or woman who really wants to get ahead will do well to let it control both thought and deed. It is a far better rule for the New Year than any resolution you may have made—and probably forgotten by now.

III. Who and Who Not to Invite for Dinner (vv. 12-14).

Is the Lord interested in such a matter as that? Indeed He is! Everything about life concerns Him, and, as a matter of fact, this is a very important point. Here an attitude toward life is revealed which is vital and fundamental.

Hospitality is a virtue highly regarded by the Bible (see such passages as Rom. 12:13; 1 Tim. 3:2; Titus 1:8; 1 Pet. 4:9). To debate it by asking only those whom we expect will ask us in return, is really to destroy it. It is not hospitality at all to limit our invitations to those who invite us. Obviously we are not to cut them off simply because they do ask us. That is not the point. We are not to let that be the controlling factor.

Ask those who cannot pay you back, if you really want to get a blessing out of it. There is so much need in the world that we who follow Christ have little time to spend merely entertaining those who have no need. God will recompense. Dr. J. W. Bradbury in The Gift of the Lesson well says, "There is a good reason not to seek recompense here; there are more enduring and valuable recompenses hereafter (Matt. 6:1-6, 16-18). When we get no recompense here for the good we do, we ought rather to rejoice than be sad. It assures better recompense hereafter."

He goes on to say, "The professing church has often followed the world's method rather than Christ's (James 2:1-6)." Sad—but true. What shall we do about it?

It is not an uncommon occurrence to see a team standing on the streets without being hitched or with no one to watch it. When a team runs away and smashes things to pieces the only remark will be "They weren't hitched." This thing of leaving horses loose with no one to look after them ought to be stopped.

SOCIETY EVENTS

Candlelight Tea is Given in Honor of Dean Williams'

The departure of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Williams for the east last Friday ended a series of social affairs, formal and informal, in which they figured.

A candlelight tea for 40 guests was given by Dean's mother, Mrs. Lillian Hand, and Mrs. W. R. Williams in the Williams home on north Main street, December 28.

Mrs. W. R. Williams presided at a table decorated in Christmas colors. Assisting Mrs. Hand and the young couple in welcoming the guests was Roger Williams, younger brother of the bridegroom.

Before their marriage Nov. 23 in the east, Mrs. Dean Williams was Miss Barton Lowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Lowell, of Plushing, Long Island. She is a student at Blue Ridge college, New Windsor, Md., and is continuing with her studies there this semester.

Dean has been engaged in theatrical work with summer stock companies in Connecticut and New York, and has also been interested in commercial photography.

Among the affairs in their honor during their stay here, was a gathering of school friends of Dean's in the Hand home Dec. 29. Dean and his bride also attended the Antioch High School alumni banquet at Brass Ball Corners the evening of Dec. 28.

On New Year's Day, they visited the former Miss Betty Constantine of Lake Catherine and Chicago, whose marriage took place in Chicago recently.

Visits to relatives of Barton's in Chicago also occupied some of their time during their stay here.

Percy Grainger to Play Monday in Waukegan

Several persons from this vicinity are planning to go to Waukegan to hear Percy Grainger, world renowned pianist-composer, who will appear in Waukegan Township High school Monday evening, Jan. 13, under the auspices of the Waukegan Philharmonic society. Grainger, Australian-born, had world-wide success before he enlisted in the United States Army in 1917, and a year later became instructor at the Army Music School. Soon after, he became a naturalized citizen, and is now accepted as an American composer and artist.

The Waukegan orchestra and chorus will present part of the program, and Mr. Grainger will conduct the orchestra in some of his own compositions. The society announces that as this is the star concert of the season, single admissions are priced at $1.00. Season tickets for this and the three succeeding concerts may be purchased at the ticket office, and are priced at $1.00 for adults and 50c for high school and younger children.

DESSERT-LUNCHEON IS PLANNED BY WESLEY CIRCLE

A 1:30 o'clock dessert-luncheon and program will be held by Wesley Circle of the Antioch Methodist church next Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. B. Gaston. A charge of 25c will be made.

Readings, music and a talk will be included in the program.

Mrs. A. P. Bratrud will speak on "The Wave of the Future."

Plans for the affair were announced at a meeting yesterday afternoon, also in the Gaston home. Twenty were present. Mrs. J. C. James and Mrs. William Runyard presided at the tea table during the social hour which followed the business session. A center piece of snapdragons and baby's breath adorned the table.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 5.

The Golden Text was: "Praise waiteth for thee, O God, in Sion: and unto thee shall the vow be performed. O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come" (Psalms 65:1, 2).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God" (Psalms 62:11).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "In Science, you can have no power opposed to God, and the physical senses must give up their false testimony. Your influence for good depends upon the weight you throw into the right scale. The good you do and embody gives you the only power obtainable. Evil is not power. It is a mockery of strength, which ere long betrays its weakness and falls, never to rise" (p. 192).

A Christmas party for juveniles and for the children of adult members was one of the most enjoyable of the association's December activities.

A beautifully decorated Christmas tree formed the center of attraction at the affair, held from 2 to 4 o'clock the afternoon of Dec. 23. Santa Claus was there to deliver presents, apples, oranges and pop corn balls to the happy youngsters. Games, readings and the singing of Christmas songs were enjoyed, and cocoa and cookies were served to the children.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

German Airforce Aids Italy in Attacks Upon British Forces in Mediterranean; Munitions Production and Shipbuilding Are Vital Spots in U. S. Defense Work

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

INVASION:

England Cautious

In contrast to the cheerful, bombless Christmas holiday, London was glum the first days of the New Year. The Nazi airforce had "concentrated" the City of London, that district in the central section of the metropolis where financial houses are located.

Thousands of incendiary bombs were dropped. Hundreds of roaring fires were out of control at the same time. The losses were estimated in millions of pounds and the dead could not be counted. Three days later a man wandering into the section asked a policeman the way to Paternoster Row, famous for centuries for its bookshops. The bobby replied: "There is no Paternoster Row, sir."

Mostly the British feared an attack through Ireland. Earlier warnings that the Axis thrust into the Balkans might only be a winter sortie and not a full-dress attack, were being taken seriously.

The actions there were being watched with interest. Germany moved 300,000 troops through Hungary and into Rumania. The Germans were posted along the border of Bulgaria where it was freely announced that as soon as they were in position and the time was ripe, an advance would be made on Salonika, Greece.

Bulgaria was belligerent in talk, but made no move to mobilize for defense or call upon Turkey and Russia for aid. Russia, however, countered the action by lining the border of Rumania with Soviet divisions. The Germans abruptly shifted a part of their force to sit opposite them.

It looked like the real thing. But experts didn't believe it. They believed Hitler was merely protecting his rear in the Balkans in preparation for the attack on England, much as he had protected his flanks when

DEFENSE:

Full Speed Ahead

As soon as President Roosevelt's "Big Four"—Knudsen, Hillman, Stimson and Knox—can get industrial plants working at capacity turning out munitions, look for an acceleration of ship building in cargo carrier classes. Washington is beginning to be alarmed at a quiet survey which showed that if Britain should fall, the Axis powers would have ship building capacities in conquered nations six times larger than U. S. capacity.

First note on this line was sounded by Republican Rep. Hamilton Fish, from the President's own N. Y. district. Representative Fish has been a critic of the administration since 1932. In turn he has plenty of critics of his own and ran into a fury of angry words when he went calling on dictators in Europe in the summer of 1939, while an official delegate of congress to the Inter-parliamentary Congress in Norway.

WILLIAM RHODES DAVIS, international oil operator who, according to Verna Marshall, head of the recently organized "No Foreign War" committee, was bearer of a Nazi peace plan naming President Roosevelt as arbiter in 1939.

But Fish's warning on ship building has not been taken lightly. If a successful Axis would take advantage of such ship-building capacities, they could control the high seas within a short time, even if the American two-ocean navy already were sailing the briny deep.

500 Planes a Day?

Another plan which will not be cast aside lightly, was presented by pint-sized Walter Reuther, manager of the General Motors division of the C. I. O.'s United Automobile Workers. Presentation to President Roosevelt actually was by Philip Murray, C. I. O. chieftain, but the plan was Reuther's.

The proposal calls for activating 354,000 feet of existing automobile plants space in the Detroit area, which once belonged to such forgotten firms as Hupmobile and Graham-Paige. Reuther and Murray also maintained that there are thousands of skilled workers in the same area still waiting for jobs. Cited were layoffs recently by Fisher Body, Chevrolet and Ternstedt.

Blue prints and tables submitted with the proposal were based on production of 150,000 planes a year, six months after it was put into effect. Only light craft and training planes would be made. The manufacture of heavy craft and bombers would be retained by the present aircraft industry.

The President handed the data to his Big Four. But even before that it had been examined privately by Undersecretary of War Patterson, who is charged with mobilization of industry. He was much impressed. It will be opposed by the aircraft industry.

There were indications too that the drive soon will be put in force to speed up defense by compelling plants manufacturing "non-essentials" to forego their schedules and "accept" war department orders.

THE ARMY:

More Men Called

During the latter half of January more thousands of young men will be called for a year's army training, under the selective service law. The first call was in December and in virtually every one of the nation's 6,500 draft boards the quota was filled by youths who volunteered. In most local areas, however, the January call will, for the first time, take men who do not volunteer.

Altus G. Moore of Washington, D. C., is one man who advanced from private to major when the call came. He is a private in the capital police force. Called to duty, he took up his assignment as a reserve officer, major of infantry.

In St. Louis, Sergt. William Schneider was called into service with the Missouri National Guard. On the first day he was in camp he was tapped on the shoulder by an officer who demanded a salute. The officer was Lieut. William Schneider Jr., his son, just commissioned in the air corps.

Changing Hands

CLEVELAND, OHIO.—In a ceremony at City Hall, Harold H. Burton (right) ended his five years as mayor of Cleveland and Edward Blythin (left) was sworn in to succeed him. Burton now becomes Ohio's junior U. S. senator.

FATEFUL YEAR:

President Warns

The seventeenth month of the war opened against a sombre background. The year 1941 dawned with a general admission that before its close may come the decisive test, not only of the war, but also the American economic system.

America was given a grave report by President Roosevelt in a speech that took the joy out of New Year's celebrations. He said that the danger to the nation is the greatest since Jamestown and Plymouth Rock. He said if Great Britain was defeated the Axis powers would control Europe, Africa, Australasia and the high seas. He said that a victorious Axis would not hesitate to occupy South America and the United States would be living at the point of a gun. He said that already secret agents of these powers are operating in the Americas.

Before the President spoke, he had received uninvited advice from two sources. German and Italian dispatches said that if the President promised aid to Britain by permitting use of Irish ports by American merchantmen or giving Britain stranded German merchantships in U. S. harbors it would be viewed as intervention in the war. From a bloc of U. S. senators, among them Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.), came urgings that the President originate a movement for a "negotiated" peace.

He pledged that he would do everything in his power to keep the United States out of the war, declared there was not even the remotest thought of sending troops to Europe, called for defense production to the utmost, hinted it may be necessary to use machinery now engaged in manufacture of luxury goods to turn out armament, and forecast that the Axis powers would not win the war.

Reaction

Throughout the United States the speech was received with pledges of support on all sides, even from personal and political enemies of Mr. Roosevelt like former Gov. Alfred Smith, former Gov. Alf Landon, Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.); Senator Austin (R., Maine).

But there was no enthusiasm among the totalitarian powers. Berlin was silent for 48 hours during which time Adolf Hitler went into seclusion and studied the document. Der Fuehrer then replied indirectly. He spoke to his army, not mentioning the name Roosevelt. But he promised his army a victory in 1941. He said God was on the side of Germany and "would not abandon those who were determined with courageous heart to help themselves."

Premier Mussolini was blunter. His mouthpiece, Virginia Gayda, said America already was in the war.

NAMES

... in the news

Ousted—The Overseas Press Club in New York consists of newsmen who are or have been foreign correspondents for U. S. newspapers in the past. There are few active members abroad now, most are back home. The club dropped from its rolls George Sylvester Viereck saying it objected to his bringing "buntdists and gestapo agents" to its meetings. Viereck, an American, is registered with the state department as the $500-a-month correspondent for a Munich newspaper.

Death—Daniel Frohman, 89, one of America's greatest theatrical producers, died in New York. Agnes Ayres, 42, star of the silent movies and leading lady to Rudolph Valentino, died in Hollywood.

Job—Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., 27, was graduated by the University of Virginia last June. Now he has a job as a lawyer with the New York firm of Wright, Gordon, Zachry and Parlin. He and five others asked for jobs through the firm's employment department. All were hired.

Sued—Gloria Jean, the 12-year-old film star, has been sued for $535,000. The action was brought against the child and her parents by a theatrical agent who said he "discovered" her and by terms of a contract is entitled to 10 per cent of her earnings.

SIR HUGH DOWDING, air chief marshal of Royal Air Force, predicted as he arrived in Canada, that German air raids will have lost their sting by spring time.

he took Norway before the drive into France.

Later came reports that German air squadrons were proceeding to Italy to aid Mussolini's fliers in attacks upon British bases in Libya and on the British fleet in the Mediterranean. It was also believed that the Germans might be used in Italy's campaign against the Greeks now raging in Albania.

Neutral Eire

Ireland is the weak point in the British defense and its ports are no further from Germany than were the ports of Norway. Like Norway, too it has long stretches of unprotected coastline. During January and February, conditions will be favorable for a German attack—the tides will be small, the nights long and the fogs thick to cover embarkation of troops.

It is estimated Hitler must establish a bridgehead of at least 50,000 troops, not counting losses, to start an invasion. Losses in such an operation are estimated at three times the number landed, so Der Fuehrer would have to start off with 200,000 troops for the landing alone. If Britain held bases in Eire, the loss estimate would be even greater, and even then the movement might not be successful. But Ireland remains neutral and aloof.

Otherwise on the war front:

☐ In Libya, fighting now on Italian territory, the British Egyptian army said it could take the important harbor of Bardia whenever it chose.

☐ Manila reported that it had learned on good authority that 12 German raiders were being armed and supplied in Japanese harbors. A mysterious raider, which ran up the Japanese flag but which Australians said was German, fired on the tiny island of Nauru, a former German possession in the Pacific.

Habit is just getting to be too much for us, and besides, we couldn't resist clipping this from a Waukegan newspaper, as possible evidence that there may be some progress even in these degenerate days:

This is the first year that drunken drivers did not hit Zion's Christmas tree. One year three cars crashed into the tree foundation. This season, however, the lower branches were clipped so that automobiles could pass under it safely. Red lights were burning constantly around the tree to warn motorists.

We see where—
Mrs. Erna Goebel, who resides on a farm one-half mile north of route 42A hung her purse containing $50 on the front bumper of one of the autos in the family garage. When she returned to the garage, both the auto and the purse were missing. Another member of the family had driven the auto to Lake Bluff. Upon return of the auto, the anxious Mrs. Goebel found that her purse was no longer hanging from the bumper.—Waukegan paper.

—And we thought that we were the only one who did things like that!

We also notice that—
After having served as city clerk of Waukegan for 10 years and as city treasurer for four, Donald S. Thomson, 71, of 820 Hickory st., who has voted there for the last 45 years, has discovered that he is not a citizen of the United States.

This was revealed when Thomson filed an application for citizenship with Circuit Clerk L. J. Wilmet, under the misinformation clause in the naturalization laws.

The world seems to be getting nuttier and nuttier. Now it's a cop who's shot in Waukegan for swiping gasoline. For gosh sakes! Course, we know lots of bigger and better crooks in case anyone wants to get out their weapons. . . .

And by the way, who was it pulled that fast sneak against the lights at the 41-173 crossing the other morning. . . . and then dug for Antioch like all-geet-out? My, we're surprised at you!

Mrs. Harriet Davis and daughter, Betty, of Indian Point attended a performance of the Ballet Russe at the Auditorium in Chicago Sunday.

A pot luck supper and board meeting were held in the Antioch Methodist church Wednesday evening.

Adolph Kucera, who has been at Victory Memorial hospital in Waukegan for the past week for observation and treatment, returned to his home at Petite lake this morning, and is reported somewhat better.

Like parent, like progeny. We are taxis in which all our ancestors ride.
